A colorful chart pinned to the whiteboard with several colored pushpins (red, yellow, green, blue). The chart is divided into several sections with icons and text, likely representing a lesson plan or a set of instructions. The text is in a non-Latin script, possibly Arabic or Persian. The chart includes various icons such as a question mark, a house, a car, and a person. The text is arranged in a grid-like format, with some sections containing multiple lines of text and others containing single lines or icons.
